Art Unit: 1645

DETAILED ACTION

Claims 7-11 and 27 are drawn to non-statutory inventions under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claims 7-11 appear to be drawn to compositions and are being treated as such for the purposes of this restriction. Claim 27 appears to be drawn to methods of treatment and prevention of infection and is being treated as such for the purposes of this restriction. If applicant amends these claims to read otherwise, they will be placed in the appropriate group at that time.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6, 20, and 28, drawn to compositions of polypeptides.

Group II, claim(s) 7-19, drawn to compositions of polynucleotides, vectors, and host cells comprising said vectors.

Group III, claim(s) 22, drawn to a vaccine comprising a composition of polypeptides and an additional component directed against other bacteria.

Group IV, claim(s) 23-25, drawn to compositions of antibodies specific to antigens of extra-intestinal E. coli strains.

Group V, claim(s) 26, drawn to compositions comprising antibodies specific to antigens of extra-intestinal E. coli strains and antibodies against Staphylococcus aureus or Group B Streptococcus.

Group VI, claim(s) 27, drawn to methods of treatment of Expec infection using antibodies specific to antigens of extra-intestinal E. coli strains.

Art Unit: 1645

Group VII, claim(s) 27, drawn to methods of prevention of Expec infection using antibodies specific to antigens of extra-intestinal E. coli strains.

Sequence Restriction Requirement Applicable to All Groups

In addition, each Group detailed above reads on patentably distinct combinations of sequences. Each combination is patentably distinct because they are combinations of polypeptides/polynucleotides with biochemical and immunological properties and a further restriction is applied to each Group. Applicant must further elect a specific combination of SEQ ID NOs appropriate to the Group chosen

Applicant is advised that examination will be restricted to only the elected combination of sequences and this should not be construed as a species election.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking the Groups is a combination of antigenic polypeptides that are specific to B2/D E. coli strains.

However, Escaich (WO 03/074553 A2, 2003; IDS filed 9/26/2006) disclose compositions comprising combination of antigenic polypeptides that are specific to B2/D E. coli strains (see abstract).

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of Groups I-VII does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
